

Are you ready to go further?

Reliable. Competent. And full of enthusiasm – we appreciate the commitment of our employees. Thanks to their qualities, the HARTMANN GROUP has become one of the leading international providers of medical and hygiene products. The secret of our success? Scope for development. We offer our just over 10,000 employees in more than 30 countries the opportunity of participating in shaping our common future. Take advantage of your new scope of action in the HARTMANN International Graduate Program at LABORATORIOS HARTMANN S.A., Mataró.

International Graduate Program Supply Chain Management

Responsibilities

Your area of responsibility:

- Cross-functional project work for 18 months, split in different assignments within a global SCM organization (e.g. SCM Planning, Purchasing, Logistics, Customer Service) in local companies and headquarters
- Conceptual work on different strategic SCM-topics
- Takeover of responsibility in daily business
- Being engaged in project assignments abroad for several months and building up an international network
- Professional and personal development supported by two mentors from senior management

What we look for

- An above-average Master degree preferably in economics or engineering with focus on SCM or logistics
- Ideally first practical experience in SCM, logistics or project management, e.g. internship
- International experience, e.g. study period abroad, internship
- Fluent proficiency in spoken and written English and Spanish and preferably a second foreign language
- A high level of analytical and strategical thinking
- A high degree of willingness to learn, performance orientation and commitment
- Excellent communication skills, ability to work in a team and inspire others
- Willingness to travel, international mobility

Are you ready for an internationally successful company? Do you appreciate the benefits of an outstanding market position? Then start your career at HARTMANN now. With us, attractive framework conditions and excellent training opportunities await you. After all, our greatest potential is your personal development. Please apply in English and send us your complete application documents (CV, motivation letter, copy of certificates).

Apply by

<http://bit.ly/2oTDDyG>

T: 937417100

