Greta Spitczok von Brisinski

Greta Spitczok von Brisinski is a German visual development artist and character designer working in Ireland, focusing on family-friendly animation, children's books and anything that sparkles.

She has spent over a decade working in the entertainment industry, covering a variety of disciplines ranging from film department supervisor at a college to TV development and motion design for TV series and feature films. In 2021, she pivoted to design for animation and has since worked on projects for Cartoon Network, Netflix, Nickelodeon, AppleTV+ and others.

