

Call for posters: ‘Challenge Accepted! Exploring Pathways to Civil Justice in Europe’

On 19-20 November 2018, the conference ‘Challenge Accepted! Exploring Pathways to Civil Justice in Europe’ will take place at the Erasmus School of Law in Rotterdam (under the ERC project Building EU Civil Justice). It will focus on how (1) the use of artificial intelligence in dispute resolution, (2) the privatisation of justice and the multiplication of alternative dispute resolution schemes, (3) the increased possibility of self-representation, and (4) court specialisation, in particular international commercial courts, influence the civil justice system. The panel descriptions are available here.

During the second day (20 November) an Academic Poster Presentation will be organised focused on the topics of the conference, which is intended as an opportunity for young academics to present their research in front of a distinguished and broad audience. We invite PhD researchers or young academics who are at the early stages of their career to present their research in a poster format. The posters will be reviewed by a jury, which will declare a winner based on the overall design and presentation of the poster.

Deadline: Please submit your poster to Kyra Hanemaayer (hanemaayer@law.eur.nl) before 1 October 2018. Accepted submissions will be notified the latest on 7 October 2018.

Details: While the poster’s content should fall within the topics of the Conference, authors have total freedom in its design. Posters should be prepared in A1 paper format. Selected authors will be asked to prepare a short pitch of 3 to 5 minutes, where they should be able to explain their research in a clear and convincing manner.
