

“Causality, Inference and Science” International Workshop Programme

Friday, 4 March

10:15—10:30 :: Mauricio Suárez (Complutense University)
Welcome and introduction

10:30—11:45 :: Rani Lill Anjum (Norwegian University of Life Sciences)
“A dispositional theory of causation”

11:45—13:00 :: Stephen Mumford (University of Nottingham)
“Necessity and determinism”

13:00—15:00 :: Lunch

15:15—16:30 :: Federica Russo (University of Kent)
“Correlational data, causal hypotheses, and validity”

16:30—17:45 :: Isabelle Drouet (IHPST Paris)
“Causal assumptions in causal discovery”

17:45—18:15 :: Tea break

18:15—19:30 :: Joseph Berkovitz (University of Toronto)
“On the eclectic nature of causal inference”

Saturday, 5 March

09:00—10:15 :: Adán Sus (University of Wuppertal)
“Explaining what is ‘natural’. The case of inertia”

10:15—11:30 :: Iñaki San Pedro (Complutense University)
“Freeing free will from conspiracy”

11:30—12:00 :: Tea break

12:00—13:15 :: Miklós Rédei (London School of Economics)
“Is algebraic relativistic quantum field theory causally complete?”

13:15—13:30 :: Closure of the workshop

Venue: Seminario S217
Facultad de Filosofía, Edificio A
Universidad Complutense de Madrid

Contact: Mauricio Suárez: msuarez@filos.ucm.es
Iñaki San Pedro: inaki.sanpedro@filos.ucm.es