Biography: Mercedes Villacampa obtained degrees in Pharmacy and Optics (UCM) and PhD in Pharmacy in 1989, under the supervision of Dr. Mónica M. Söllhuber. After postdoctoral studies with Professor Nicholas Bodor (University of Florida, Gainesville), she obtained a permanent position at the Department of Organic and Medicinal Chemistry at the School of Pharmacy (UCM). She has also done postdoctoral work at the laboratory of Professor Kendall N. Houk (University of California at Los Angeles, UCLA). She has participated in numerous research projects with public funding, all of them related to the design and synthesis of new heterocyclic compounds with potential biological activity.

Research Interest: Drug Discovery, Heterocyclic Chemistry, Computational Chemistry, Multicomponent reactions, Diversity-Oriented Synthesis, Mechanochemistry, Neglected Diseases, Neurodegeneration.
